Don’t forget your self-care
As we end 2019, we wanted to share the following graphic to remind everyone not to forget your self-care during the busy holiday season.
External Quality Improvement Council meeting set

The External Quality Improvement Council meeting is set for today, December 19th, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. All are invited. Come share your ideas on how to enhance High Fidelity Wraparound in Wyoming. Join us!

FREDLA is looking for your feedback

You are invited to participate in a survey! Pathways RTS and the Family-Run Executive Director Leadership Association (FREDLA) are collaborating on a new national survey of family members and young adults who receive or have received support to document the kinds and amount of support – financial, emotional and other help – that families and other allies provide for young people with behavioral health needs during the transition years (16–25 years old). This information will inform youth- and family-run organizations, policy makers and service planners about the needs and preferences of both young people and their families.

If you have experience as a family member or ally of a young person with behavioral health challenges for who you provided support during their transition years, take the family/Ally survey. If you are a young adult currently 18 years or older who experienced behavioral health challenges during your transition years, and you received support from a family member or ally during that time, please take the young adult survey.

Caregiver Support Groups offers encouragement

A Caregiver Support group was created to help caregivers during the High Fidelity Wraparound process. PLEASE INVITE YOUR FAMILIES - parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, foster parents, step parents, anyone who cares for children and youth with complex needs. This group provides a safe place for families and caregivers to talk through their struggles, their successes and to learn from one another. You don’t have to be a member of High Fidelity Wraparound to attend these groups. They are free and all you need is access to a phone or the internet.

- First Wednesday of every month from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m. (Mountain Time)
- Second Wednesday of every month from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. (Mountain Time)
- Contact KCampbell2@MagellanHealth.com or call 307-459-6165 for instruction on how to connect to the online Caregiver Support Group meetings.

These support groups are available to any caregiver, guardian, parent, grandparent, family member, etc. who would like more support! You don’t have to be a current member with Magellan, anyone can join. Please direct any questions to Kathryn Campbell at KCampbell2@MagellanHealth.com or Chassity Wiederspahn at WiederspahnC@MagellanHealth.com.
We're accepting youth referrals
Do you know a young person age 4 to 20 who would benefit from additional support? Would it make a difference if they could be more successful at home, school and in their community?

Wyoming's High Fidelity Wraparound program can help if:
- A free program makes sense for the youth and their family.
- Additional mental health or behavior support is needed.
- Youth who currently are, or could be, Medicaid eligible.
- Youth is at risk for being placed out of their home in hospital or detention.
Youth and their care givers would benefit from having a team of support. Learn more by completing our Referral Form or visiting our website.

Our program is growing
If you have ever wanted to help youth with complex mental health or behavioral health concerns, you can become a provider by visiting our Become a Provider page. We are always looking for more experienced and caring people to join forces with us to meet the needs of youth across Wyoming. Do you know anyone who would be great at this? Refer them to work with us.
